FARMERS' COLUMN

The Farm and Home

The fact that alfalfa produced a fairly good first crop of hay, despite unfavorable weather, should encourage more farmers to grow this legume. Most other hay crops were affected by the lack of rain. Meanwhile, rain would produce another alfalfa crop and possibly two more.

If the manure dropped on pastures by animals were well scattered each winter after the grazing season is over, it would make the manure much more effective and be a decided help to the grass. A drag or harrow can be used to do the scattering.

There is still time to sow emergency hay and pasture crops. Sorghums and sweet sorghum or cane are usually sowed before July 1, but Sudan grass and cowpeas may be sowed for hay as late as July 15, and millet even later.

Special care is needed in cleaning white shoes. Surface dirt or dust should be removed with a dry cloth, and cleaner applied sparingly with a clean cloth. After the shoes have dried thoroughly they should be rubbed briskly. Cleaning off the feet is the preferable way.

The housing of implements is one of the best paying practices on the farm. This is especially true of machinery containing large amounts of wood or many moving parts. Exposure to the weather often does more damage than does the operation of the machine.

Housekeepers spend an average of 426 hours a year washing dishes, according to Miss Ida C. Hagman of the college of agriculture, university of Kentucky. She believes the job warrants more attention to equipment, kinds of dishes and other cooking utensils used, and general cleaning methods.

Rabies Prevalent

Reports of rabies in several counties have reached the department of animal pathology at the agricultural experiment station at Lexington this summer. In some instances a considerable number of animals and several persons were bitten.

When a person is bitten by a dog he should be rushed to the nearest doctor for the Pasteur treatment, if there is any probability that the dog was mad. The dog should be confined and a veterinarian called. If the dog shows symptoms suggestive of rabies it should be held two or three days for observation. If there is definite evidence that the dog has rabies it should be killed and its head sent to the public service laboratories at the agricultural experiment station, Lexington, or to the state board of health, Louisville.

Effort should be made not to injure the dog's head. Put the head in an air tight container, which should be packed in ice and sawdust in another container to keep it cold until it reaches the laboratories for examination.

Rabies may be prevented by vaccination, and all dogs worth owning should be inoculated against them. This is required in most cities, and should be universal. Such precaution would practically eliminate the dreadful disease of rabies or hydrophobia, and save the lives of hundreds of animals and many persons every year.

Insurance Features

Threat of crop destruction by drouth has placed added importance on income protection features of the commodity adjustment programs which farmers of the country are carrying out under the direction of the agricultural adjustment administration. For the first time in the history of American agriculture, crop income insurance is provided on a nation-wide scale.

While designed primarily to permit crop adjustments which would bring production into line with effective demand at a fair price to the producer, the wheat, corn-hog, cotton, and tobacco adjustment programs also guarantee a definite income for those cooperating farmers whose crops have been cut down or even destroyed by drouth or other forces beyond their control.

Because they are based on past production averages, the amounts of the rental or benefit payments are not diminished by current crop failure.

PLANS SCHOOL WORK

West Liberty, Ky., June 26, 1934

To the Public:

On Saturday, June 23, 1934, the Morgan county board of education met in their regular session and Mr. James W. Davis submitted a resignation as county superintendent, he having been previously elected. The board of education by a unanimous vote then elected me to the office of county superintendent for a four year term beginning July 1, 1934. I deeply appreciate the support of each member and I shall do my best to accomplish many things for Morgan county schools. I hope that with their assistance we will be able to make history so far as school work in this county is concerned.

I have no ill will toward anyone who saw fit to oppose my election, but they will receive the same kind and equal consideration as my supporters, as I am superintendent for the people of Morgan county and not just for my friends. Each teacher is hereby called on to try to teach the best school possible and to cooperate with me, and I will gladly cooperate with you and will be glad to help you solve your problems, and I hope that you will help me to make a real superintendent.

When I have had a little time to acquaint myself with the work, and in the near future, I will give you a complete summary of my aims and objectives as superintendent of schools for the coming four years.

Very sincerely yours,

OVA O. HANEY

VISITING IN MORGAN

Carl Edison Henry, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry at Pomphrey, for several years general manager of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. at Logan, W. Va., is enjoying his vacation in his native county. He will also visit his sister, Mrs. S. S. Arnett, at Ashland, on his way back to his work. The Logan Banner, in recounting the splendid services of Mr. Henry to his company, says of him: "Mr. Henry is a popular member of the younger set, and has been connected with his company since 1929, when he came to Logan to take over the management of the A. & P. store on Stratton street. About a year later the company opened the store on Dingess street and Mr. Henry has been its manager since that time. Tho but 26 years old, Mr. Henry has proven himself to be an alert, wide awake business man, and to him can be attributed much of the company's increasing success and popularity in Logan. His present personnel consists of Alex Nagay, assistant to Mr. Henry, Trimble Gilliam, meat manager, Barbara Kovace, Kermit Simms, and Eddie Blair.

Mr. Henry is sociable, likeable, and a good mixer. His engaging smile and winning personality have made for him many staunch and loyal friends."

Visiting in Kentucky

W. G. Wells and son Victor, of Middletown, Ohio, arrived in the county Wednesday and went to Woodbend to visit Mr. Wells' daughter, Mrs. Bessie Ratliff, and family. Thursday they all went on to Roraltown to visit other relatives before returning to Middletown. Mr. Wells is a native Morgan county man and keeps informed of and interested in affairs here. He is looking fine and carrying the years lightly which are being added to his store.

NOTICE

My wife, Mary, has left my bed and board, and notice is hereby given to all concerned not to extend credit to her on my account. (Adv.)

W. B. MAY, West Liberty, Ky.

In cases of serious drouth damage this year, benefit payments thru the adjustment act to farmers signing contracts will represent a substantial part of their total farm income. These assured payments guarantee that a cooperating farmer will have some income, even tho his crop fails entirely.

The commodity adjustment programs have been so planned that they are flexible enough to meet such unusual situations as that created by the drouth in many sections. They protect the producer from being crippled, thru complete loss of income, in his efforts to renew production when the immediate failure has passed.

Again the People Lose

After a two and a half years' fight, said: "Give me a hundred jobs and I will control any legislature." As the selfish politicians surrounding him, finally were successful in imposing a general sales tax on the people of Kentucky.

Thus another long struggle between the people and the politicians ends, and, as usual, the people lose and the politicians win.

Unable to force a sales tax thru the regular session of the 1932 legislature or the special session of 1933, the governor announced he would take the fight to the voters and stump the state in favor of his pet scheme.

Finding, however, that his speeches only increased the overwhelming sentiment opposed to such a form of taxation, he soon abandoned his tour and announced that he "was not wedded to the sales tax idea."

But the voters of Kentucky took his statement with a grain of salt and carried on the fight against the sales tax into the election of members of the 1934 legislature.

As far as is known, not a single open advocate of the sales tax survived the storm of opposing votes. A few dodged or evaded the issue and slipped in, but when the 1934 legislature convened 83 of the 100 members of the house and 24 of the 36 members of the senate were on record as pledged to their constituents to vote against a sales tax in any form.

In spite of this overwhelming majority in both branches, the governor and his cohorts eventually were successful in passing a sales tax. How they were able to persuade so many representatives and senators to enact the role of Benedict Arnold only time will tell.

In this connection it is significant to recall a boast made by the governor in Louisville some sixteen or seventeen months ago. He is reported to have said: "Give me a hundred jobs and I will control any legislature." As the selfish politicians surrounding him, finally were successful in imposing a general sales tax on the people of Kentucky.

But regardless of the methods used by the Laffoon administration to pass the measure, the voters are not likely to lose sight of the fact that 34 representatives and 5 senators who were pledged against a sales tax broke faith with their constituents and brought about its enactment. These traitors should and doubtless will receive their just deserts should they ever offer for public office again.

As the sales tax enacted only runs for a period of two years, the administration has won only a temporary victory, and another fight is certain to be waged over its continuance when a new legislature is elected next year. It will also be an issue in the next governor's race and if sponsored by the Democratic nominee will very likely carry the entire ticket down to defeat.

The forcing of a sales tax on the people of Kentucky was unnecessary and ill advised and is certain to react adversely against those responsible for its enactment. Ample funds could have been provided from other sources that would not have worked a hardship on any class of citizens to take care of the necessary needs of the state. Certainly in view of the financial condition of the taxpayers of the state it would have been far wiser to have placed a tax on "the whisky that goes into the cocktails of the rich rather than to tax the bread that goes into the mouths of the poor," but the Laffoon crowd refused to permit any revenue measure to be passed save a sales tax. Apparently they were determined to get the money and they were equally determined to wring it out of the people, regardless of their ability to pay it.—The Shelby News.

DESERVED PRAISE

The Courier is proud of the opportunity to reprint from a Republican paper the following deserved praise of a native son of Morgan county, in an editorial on the passage of the sales tax:

"Right here let the editor of the Gazette take off his hat to Steve Pieratt, the Democratic representative from Montgomery county. HE KEPT HIS WORD TO THE PEOPLE. If this state had more men in public office like Steve Pieratt, Kentucky would not be fifteen million dollars in debt, and no man would hold public office whose word was not as good as his bond. All honor to Steve Pieratt. He proved himself to be a man of the courage of his convictions, and with 'guts' enough to stand for what he believed was right. We have no doubt but that Steve Pieratt could have gotten promises of plenty of jobs had he been willing to betray his people. But he could not be approached." —Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Morgan county joins Montgomery county in paying tribute to a worthy son. He has been true to the traditions of his family and the traditions of his native county. There is more honor in being an honest man than there is in securing any job.

Fourth Quarterly Conference

Dr. V. L. Moore will preach in the Methodist church Sunday night. The business session will be held following the sermon. Special importance is attached to this last quarterly conference of the year, and every member is urged to be present. This will be Dr. Moore's final visit to us in the capacity of presiding elder, due to the ruling made at the recent general conference that no presiding elder be allowed to serve on a district more than four consecutive years. The pastor will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock. The evening service will begin at 7:45. Everyone invited. I. J. SCUDDER, pastor.

Ice Cream Party

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wells entertained Saturday night with an ice cream party, honoring their guest, Miss Vaughn Hytton of Monaville, W. Va. Games and music were the diversion of the evening. Ice cream and lemonade were served at a late hour. All departed declaring they had never spent a more delightful evening.

The brain works best when the tongue is at rest.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Stacy Fork, Ky.—On Saturday, June 23, while Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Gullett at their home near Adele were going about their daily tasks as usual, the daughters, daughters-in-law, sons, sons-in-law, and eighteen grandchildren began to pour in at different entrances of the big farm home. Later, neighbors, friends, and other relatives began to arrive. All were welcomed as usual, but Mr. and Mrs. Gullett were puzzled as to how they were going to prepare a lunch for so many with scarcely any warning; but after several baskets filled with delicious homecooked food appeared and after a glance at a fine birthday cake, Uncle P. E. Gullett began to settle down to enjoy his seventy-first birthday dinner, which had been prepared by his children in their own homes for a surprise party.

When the lunch hour arrived everything was made ready by unloading baskets on the beautiful shaded lawn, a blessing was pronounced, and the following guests were found eating and drinking: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gullett, Dr. A. P. Gullett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnett, Mrs. Bryant (mother of Watt Bryant), Mrs. Clay Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gullett, Mrs. Watt Bryant, Hagar Gullett, Misses Irene, Kathryn, Melrose, and Mary Maggie Gullett, Messrs. Travis and Doris Jean Bryant, Henry Evert, Burley, Brondell Hargis, Sharmoon, and Robert B. Arnett, and John Gullett, and Misses Hazel Lee, Helen, and Kathryn Arnett.

The afternoon was wonderfully spent, the guests separating at a late hour wishing Mr. Gullett many more happy birthdays.

VISITING IN FLORIDA

Miss Hazel Carter, daughter of Mrs. J. T. Carter of Dehart, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. L. Y. Redwine, of Fort Myers, Florida. In company with Miss Marian J. Carter, Miss Carter is touring the state where she is visiting. The Everglades, St. Augustine, Bok Tower, noted resorts, and other places of interest in the state are on the itinerary.

Returning, Miss Carter will be accompanied to Kentucky by her aunt, Mrs. B. F. Carter, who expects to spend most of the summer with relatives and friends in and near West Liberty, Lexington, Morehead, Salyersville, and other places.

PUBLIC NOTICE

To the Democrats of the 8th (old 9th) congressional district of Kentucky: I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the primary election on Saturday, August 4, 1934, and will appreciate your support.

1. If elected, I will support President Roosevelt in his continued effort to place the country on a sound financial, economic, and social basis.
2. The expense of government must be curtailed if the burden of taxation is to be lightened. As the first step in that direction, the basic salaries of representatives in congress and U. S. senators should be reduced from $10,000 to $7,500 annually. The last mentioned amount was the salary paid during the period of the world's highest prices. I shall therefore fight to the last ditch to bring about such reduction.
3. I favor an Old Age Pension law and will do all in my power to secure the enactment of same.
4. I will give the ex-service men the same character of untiring service that I gave them when formerly a member of congress, and will exert my efforts to restore with the least possible delay every just and equitable pension and compensation claim.
5. Tobacco, the chief money crop of Kentucky, is bearing an unfair proportion of the burden of taxation. The tobacco tax should be reduced and a sales system created by law that will guarantee to the grower a fair price, and I shall use every honorable means at my command to accomplish these results.
6. If returned to congress I shall refrain, as I have always done, from any effort or attempt to be a political boss, and will not meddle in local politics; nor will I discriminate between Democratic candidates for party nominations who have been equally loyal to me. (Adv.)

REVIVAL CLOSED

Rev. I. J. Scudder, pastor of the Methodist church, closed his two weeks' revival Sunday night.

It being Rev. Scudder's Sunday in Cannel City, he took his evangelist to that place for the Sunday morning service. Rev. Claud Dayton, who conducted the singing thru the revival, preached here Sunday morning. Rev. Dayton brought a good message in song both Saturday evening and Sunday evening.

The evangelist, Rev. Warren Davis of Wilmore, in his first sermon showed that he did not need to "get warmed up." He was already heart and soul into the revival. Each evening message appealed to the highest and best in men. Each afternoon message unfolded the gospel and made the Christian's pathway more clear. His last message was delivered with a heart full of love and touched deeply the heart of every Christian and reached out to everyone seeking a better and a more useful life.

WRANGLING OVER SPOILS

At the time our paper goes to press there seems to be no hope of the state legislature being able to adjourn this week, as it was hoped it would and could. The Democrats of the house undertook to bind the members of the party and confine appropriations to the estimated state income. In this they were thwarted by the governor's forces joining with the Republicans, and according to reports and estimates are prepared to pass a budget bill estimated at $4,000,000 above the state's probable revenue.

WORLD'S FAIR TRIP

The Courier has made it possible for eight or ten bright young people of Morgan county to earn a three days' trip to the World's Fair. A little real effort will earn this trip. We will give you full information on application to our office.

Dreaming about this or wishing it just would happen will not win the trip, but a little good honest work will. You will enjoy the trip better for having earned it. Now is the time to earn the trip. You can take the trip any time this summer. This opportunity is too good to let slip.

VINSON SEEKS NOMINATION

On page two of this paper is printed the regular announcement of Congressman Fred M. Vinson for the Democratic nomination as congressman from the eighth Kentucky district.

Mr. Vinson has served the district for several terms with credit to himself and honor to the district. He is in the prime of life, fearless in the defense of duty, and always on the alert for the best interests of the people of the counties comprising his district. If Mr. Vinson is nominated and reelected he will continue the faithful servant he has been.

BEAUTY PAGEANT

The American Legion, Holly Coffee Post no. 68, will sponsor a pageant to be presented at the West Liberty school auditorium on Tuesday night, July 10, at 7:30.

This pageant will consist of Morgan county girls and a program of music and novelty numbers will also be arranged for the same night. Similar pageants are being conducted thruout the state of Kentucky under the auspices of various American Legion posts.

The most beautiful girl will be selected to represent Holly Coffee Post at the ninth American Legion district beauty pageant to be held at Morehead July 19.

This pageant will be under the direction of Miss La Noline Brinton, who will arrive here Sunday, it was announced by the post adjutant, J. Blaine Nickell.

NEW SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

At a meeting of the Morgan county board of education on Saturday of last week, Prof. Ova Haney was elected superintendent of schools of Morgan county for the four year term beginning July 1.

At a meeting of the board some months ago Jas. W. Davis had been reelected on the condition that he could qualify. It was found, however, that the new school code just recently passed required college training for a superintendent, which Mr. Davis did not have. Mr. Davis at the meeting Saturday handed the board his resignation, and the board then elected Mr. Haney.

Mr. Haney is a native of Morgan county and for the last few years has been principal of the Wayland high school, succeeding Prof. J. G. Long at that place.

Mr. Haney married a popular Floyd county girl and they have a son about a year old. They will establish a home in West Liberty and Mr. Haney will take up his duties promptly.

Photographs on Fabric

An exceedingly simple method of making photographic pictures upon fabric has been devised. A patented solution is spread upon the material and the print made from the negative in the same manner as is ordinarily used in making photographic prints, but differing from the older method, the picture is complete and finished with this exposure. No fixing or toning whatever is required.

Scotland Gets Old Reliquary

The famous 1,200-year-old Mynyddog Reliquary is to become a national possession of Scotland, and will be displayed in the National Museum of Antiquities in Edinburgh. It was purchased by the National art-collectors fund for $12,500. Among the contributors was Prime Minister MacDonald. In ancient times the custodian of the reliquary carried it with the sacred relics of St. Columba before the Scottish armies when they went into battle. It was carried thus on the field of Bannockburn in 1314.

A Busy Woman

HERE'S a woman who occasionally "dines" on a can of tomato juice from the ice box. Her name is Claudine Macdonald, and she is the director of the Women's Radio Revue, a featured daytime program over the National Broadcasting Company network. Those who have not given the subject thought might be surprised to realize the vast amount of executive and detail work that goes into making a variety program such as this.

Mrs. Macdonald is one of the busiest women in the country. Not only must she procure a famous guest speaker for each of the five days a week that the Women's Radio Revue is on the air, but she must also build a vocal and instrumental program around each speaker.

No Time to Eat

"Some days I don't even have time to eat," says this only woman director of the National Broadcasting Company. "Often I have a meal sent in from a nearby restaurant, but there are many times when I get nothing. On those evenings, when I get home from the studio too tired to think of stopping anywhere for a bite, I 'dine' on a can of tomato juice from the ice box. Then I get a few hours' sleep, and go back to work."

Tomato juice is a tasty drink which has won its way to popular favor through its succulence and flavor as well as because of its health-giving qualities. But did you know that you can have it either hot or cold, served as either a cocktail or as bouillon, and that it is now making its appearance in these forms at many formal luncheons and dinners, though not as the entire meal as is sometimes the case with this very busy woman?

SAFE AND SANE

A SAFE and sane Fourth of July can be just as jolly as a day of scorched fingers, or more serious accidents can be had, and now is the time to plan against such catastrophes. Have fireworks, of course. The Fourth would not be the Fourth without them. But be sure that there are older persons on hand to restrain too excitable youngsters from taking any risks.

And it is a good thing to be sane about foods as well as fireworks, on this day of national patriotism. A tummy ache is no more enjoyable on July fifth than on any other day in the year. Safeguard both the outsiders and the insides of your children, but be sure, too, that they have a good time.

Why Not Have a "Sing"? Do you remember, during the war, all the fervor and fun that used to be worked up by the government's song leaders? Why not get a song leader full of pep, whose very presence has all the kick of a couple of cocktails, and have him lead your crowd in a patriotic "sing"? Let him lead you in the "Star Spangled Banner," high notes and all. "America" and every other patriotic song that comes to mind. You'll find that the "sing" will end up with everyone breathless and happy.

Then there are patriotic games galore which require plenty of running, and work up a grand appetite. "Paul Revere's Ride" is one of them. Station the children about the yard, or around the block, and have one boy gallop wildly, past each group of them, shouting: "To arms! To arms!"

The British are coming!" as loud as he can. Then try it with another boy. The boy who succeeds in being most dramatic and creating the most excitement by his "ride" should get a prize.

Then for the "Eats"

By that time everyone should be ready for the "eats" and drinks. Singing and running are hungry and thirsty businesses. So here's a suggestion for an outdoor supper which will satisfy both these cravings, and give everyone a chance to calm down before night falls and the rockets begin to rise. First the menu:

Watermelon Cubes with Fresh Mint
Combination Meat and Vegetable Loaf
Creamed Potatoes with Cheese and Green Peppers en Casserole
Lettuce and Cucumber Whole
Wheat Sandwiches
Ice Cream Sandwiches
Spiced Ginger

Watermelon Cubes with Fresh Mint: Cut watermelon in small, uniform cubes (or in tiny balls) and pile in cocktail glasses. Pour over orange juice, sprinkle with finely-chopped mint, and tuck a sprig of mint in the center of each. Serve very cold.

Combination Meat and Vegetable Loaf: Mix well together three-fourths pound of ground round steak, one-half pound of ground boiled ham, three-fourths cup of dry crumbs, one and one-fourth teaspoons salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Add the contents of one can of vegetable soup and two slightly-beaten eggs. Put into a greased loaf pan, and bake two slices of bacon on top. Bake for an hour in an oven, 400 degrees. Serve sliced, either hot or cold.

Chocolate Sauce: Melt two and one-half squares of chocolate over hot water, add one-third cup of boiling water, and stir until smooth. Add two-thirds evaporated milk and three tablespoons corn syrup. Combine one and one-fourth cups sugar, one-sixteenth teaspoon cream of tartar, one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon, and add. Cook over hot water for ten minutes. Serve either hot or cold. It is fairly thin when hot but quite thick when cold.

Spiced Ginger: Mix four whole cloves, one-fourth teaspoon allspice, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-third cup honey, the juice and grated rind of two lemons, one cup orange juice, one cup pineapple syrup and one cup water. Let stand in the refrigerator for at least an hour or longer. Strain, add two pints ginger ale, and serve. This makes eight glasses.

The small girls in the junior class sang a special song for the Sunday school. Next Sunday they will sing "How Beautiful Heaven Must Be."

A lively and interesting ball game is being held each Sunday immediately after Sunday school, on the Oak Hill diamond. We have been watching some very interesting games between the old ball team which has played for years and the young boys from 15 to 25 years of age. Last Sunday the old team left with a sad look on their faces, resolving never to play ball again, for they were defeated by the boys by a score of 9 to 1. But they took on new courage this week, for they came back Sunday afternoon with smiles on their faces saying they were going to win. And sure enough they did. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of the old team. Come on, boys, we know you'll win next Sunday. Come out and watch our ball games. RED

Wedding bells have rung once more in our neighborhood. Ernest Robinson of Adele and Miss Smith, a girl Mrs. Allison Rose got from the home, were married Friday. Bro. Dick Tolson tied the knot. We wish them success in their undertaking. Married life is not all roses. There are lots of thorns in these hard times. NANCY

Owe It All to Polyps

The action of small animals known as coral polyps was responsible for the formation of large groups of islands in many parts of the Pacific ocean, while large deposits of limestone rock also owe their origin to these minute creatures.
